SPOTLIGHT in the Senior CLC Wrap Up

By Ivonne Perez

For the past two weeks, Christian Leadership Class seniors have been participating in a number of challenges that served as their final exam.

Over the course of two semesters, students have practiced and learned what it means to be a leader. Students have touched on topics such as leading a small group and collaborating with others. Having learned various techniques of leadership over the course of the class, the seniors implemented their new found knowledge in various projects this year, including the Freshman Lock-In, Sophomore Parent Night and many more.

Dr. Martin, the Director of Campus Ministry and Formation, has taught CLC for 26 years, bringing a great amount of experience to the program.

First group of seniors go on final retreat as 2nd semester begins

By Megan Mersino

Last weekend the first of three senior Metanoias at St. Benedict Lodge took place. 32 seniors spent the weekend discussing the transition from high school to life after high school or the movement to making adult decisions. The Metanoia is the last retreat offered to Marist students and is led by either Senior Metanoia moderators Bill Ferrari or Becky Boyd, recent Marist graduates, and Marist staff.

The word Metanoia means “change of heart” and is of Greek origin and is meant to symbolize the stage of life seniors find themselves in. The hope of the retreat is to help students center on what they have been given the last four years and what they will now do in the communities they go out to.

Marist graduates led small group discussions and spoke on their experiences after high school to help give insight on college life. “It was a blessing to get to come back and see teachers and friends from a few years below, and it’s cool because it shows that We Are One even after we graduate,” said Marist 2016 graduate Ryan Helbling.

The weekend was filled with adventurous hikes, delicious food and lots of impactful learning. “There’s nothing quite like the magic of St. Benny’s!” said Marist 2016 graduate Kennedy Sunberg.

This Monday, Marist students and staff filmed an anti-bullying video on campus. This video will kick off an anti-bullying week titled “Take a Stand, Lend a Hand” which starts on March 5 and continues with a different focus each day.

Students volunteered to act out different scenes depicting bullying scenarios they thought were relevant for students today. Becky Boyd, English teacher and National Honor Society Co-Moderator, along with Christi Nicholson, Director of Student Services, oversaw the filming but much of the work was student led.

“Something I really appreciated was the hard work the kids put in. This was by students for students which I hope makes it more impactful,” Nicholson said.
